

Sentara Equity/HSA Plans

Offered with Health Savings Account (HSA)

1. What is a Health Savings Account (HSA)?

A Health Savings Account (HSA) is a savings and spending account that offers members a tax-advantaged way to pay for qualified medical expenses. You can also save for future medical and retirement healthcare expenses. In order to open an HSA, you must be enrolled in a qualified high-deductible health plan (HDHP).

2. What is a high-deductible health plan (HDHP)?

The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) defines HDHPs as plans with a deductible of at least $1,600 for an individual, or $3,200 for a family in 2024. HDHPs tend to have higher deductibles than traditional health plans, which often result in a lower monthly premium. Your HDHP can be combined with an HSA, allowing you to pay your qualified medical expenses, tax free. Sentara Health Plans HSA-compatible plans include "Sentara Equity" and "Sentara HSA" plans.

3. Who is eligible to open an HSA?

People enrolled in a qualified HDHP, aren't covered by other health insurance or another spending account like a Flexible Savings Account (FSA) or a Health Reimbursement Arrangement (HRA), not enrolled in Medicare, and can't be claimed as a dependent on someone else's tax return.

4. Who can contribute to an HSA?

The member or their employer can fund HSAs with tax-free dollars.

5. How much can be contributed each year?

For 2024, contribution limits are $4,150 for individual or $8,300 for family coverage. HSA holders age 55 or older may make an additional contribution of $1,000 per year (totaling $5,150 for individual/$9,300 for family). For 2023, the limits were $3,850 for individual or $7,750 for family coverage.

HSA holders age 55 or older may also make an additional contribution of $1,000 per year (totaling $4,850 for individual or $8,750 for family coverage). These maximums are established by the IRS and are subject to change every year.

6. Who owns the HSA?

The member owns the account regardless of who contributes. The funds remain in the account and earn tax-free interest over time.

7. What can I pay for with my HSA funds?

An HSA can be used to pay for any qualified medical expense as defined by the IRS. Qualified medical expenses include, but are not limited to: copayments, deductibles, coinsurance, vision care, and dental care.
