

Benefit plans with integrated HSAs

Sentara HSA plans link a qualified, high-deductible health plan (HDHP) with a Health Savings Account (HSA).

The first part of this innovative product, an HDHP, features monthly premiums that can be significantly lower than many other types of traditional health plans.

The money saved on premiums is then available for members to “contribute” in the other part of this product—a savings fund that grows tax-free¹ and rolls over from one year to the next.

How does Sentara HSA work?

Sentara HSA members can choose to open an HSA where they can contribute tax-free income to use for qualified medical expenses. You, the employer, may also make contributions on your employees’ behalf. The money contributed in the HSA can then be used to cover qualified medical expenses for your employees or their dependents.

Employees can distribute funds tax-free as long as the funds are used for qualified medical expenses. If the funds are not needed, they can be left alone and allowed to grow tax-free. The savings account balance carries over from year to year—which is a “use or keep it” option.

The HSA goes with the employee even if they change jobs.

Employee-owned HSA funds go with the employee. Whatever dollars are contributed in their HSA are theirs to use or keep. Any amount that is not spent keeps growing tax-free and will be available for future qualified medical expenses.

¹ HSAs are never taxed at a federal income tax level when used appropriately for qualified medical expenses. Also, most states recognize HSA funds as tax-deductible with very few exceptions. Please consult a tax advisor regarding your state’s specific rules.

- HSA funds roll over from year to year—“use it or keep it.”
